The presentation will be partitioned into essentially three topics.

1) Discretization of simulation domains, i.e. device geometries
2) Solution strategies for systems of nonlinear equations.
3) Algorithms for the solution of large, sparse linear systems.

Particular emphasis will be laid on bottlenecks with the mentioned topics in order to stimulate further research.